

When You Entertain

No doubt you are giving some of those little social evenings with cards, music, dancing or simple conversation.

It does not make much difference how you spend the time, but it does make a difference how the home looks. You want to feel proud of your home—you don't want to have cheap-looking, tawdry furnishings; you may not aim at anything elaborate or ambitious, but you certainly wish to create an impression of good taste, of substance, of worth.

May we be of service to you in the selection of the home furnishings?

Are some of the old pieces of furniture beginning to show signs of wear or need repairing? New coverings of tapestry and leather will brighten them up for you, and they will seem new again. Our Upholstering Department can give you work that is sure to please. Let us estimate and tell how reasonably your pieces of furniture may be fixed up.

LONDON BREWERS FINED.

Because They Brewed More Beer Than Their Allowance.

London, Feb. 14.—Two partners in a brewery firm were recently fined $1,000 for brewing several hundred barrels of beer in excess of their output allowance. At Halstead, Essex, police court a farmer was summoned for feeding flour to pigs. His defense was that it was more in the interests of the nation that barley should be used for feeding stock than for making beer. The case was adjourned for a fortnight.

"First Aids in a Hurry"

You call them first aids because they are the handiest things to employ in an emergency accident. You need them in a hurry, for that is the way accidents occur. Cotton, bandages, plasters are as necessary in the home as the furniture itself. It is often far better to have a complete emergency equipment than it is to have a comfortable chair. If you haven't got an outfit, get one now.

During their absence they will visit among former Vermonters in Los Angeles and elsewhere along the Pacific coast, and call on Leon Abbott, who is stationed at Camp Kearney.

A soldierly appearing group of men appear in a photograph of the 1st Vermont regiment which is exhibited in the display window of B. W. Hooker & Co. The picture was taken before the 1st Vermont infantry began to profit by the recruiting drive which recently terminated in this state. It was sent north by one of the Barre boys who has been in the infantry for several months.

Rev. Charles A. Boyd of Burlington, field secretary of the Vermont State Sunday School association, who has been conferring with workers in several Washington county towns, arrived in Barre to-day to meet Sunday school heads and teachers. In the vestry of the Congregational church this evening the secretary will give a lecture, accompanied by stereopticon views, and the gathering is to include all Sunday school workers in the city. Others who may be interested are invited to attend.

Although the amount of coal in stock is limited, local fuel dealers are receiving numerous orders, and the system of inspection inaugurated by the local fuel committee and the city council a week ago is easily justifying its existence. Dealers are reduced to the necessity of relying largely upon the inspector's report, and on all orders relatively small amounts of coal are being doled out. The present spell of mild weather has reduced considerably the danger of an acute shortage such as was anticipated when the prolonged cold snap showed no signs of abating. Some hundreds of tons of coal, so one dealer estimates, have been saved by conditions which permitted people to get along with low fires.

George W. Mann is interested in a newspaper clipping from Winchester, Va., in which the people of that historic town are reported to have seen a large American flag in the sky. Presently the folds of the flag opened and flew after the fashion of Sammie in khaki marched through the heavens. The Winchester scribe explains the rather unusual happening by ascribing it to a mirage, or a reflection on the clouds of soldiers marching far away. The reporter goes on to say that the spectacle was reproduced in the sky by the angle of observation aided by peculiar atmospheric conditions prevailing. To Mr. Mann the story bears all the earmarks of authenticity, he says, for at the age of 14, in March, 1861, while living a few miles from Barre he witnessed much the same spectacle. Northern boys were then marching out of Washington, and the colors as well as the ranks of men were plainly visible in the Vermont skies, according to Mr. Mann.

Our Early Showing of Ladies' Suits

We are now showing a good assortment of the early spring suit models. You will want a new spring suit; and the best values of the season will be found among the early models. The new models we are now showing are the Wooltex and Printz-Beiderman makes. These are suits that for style and service cannot be beaten. All cloths put into these garments are strictly all wool. If interested in suits you should see these early spring models.

Spring House Dresses

Our spring line of House Dresses will interest ladies in need of these Dresses. The price of Ginghams and Percales will necessarily advance the price quite a little this season, but when you see these spring models and compare prices and figure the amount of material it takes, you will realize how cheap these Dresses are.

These are the Good Service make of House Dresses, and those of you who have had these Dresses know how well they are made and how well they fit.

The materials are the best quality of Percales and Ginghams.

At $1.25 are a few Fleece-Lined Wrappers in qualities that sold at $1.50. These are in medium Grays.

These House Dresses are made in a number of the season's best style models, in Blue Stripes, Gray Figures, in Percale, and the Striped Ginghams in Blues, Grays, Pink and Lavender. The Black and White Checks are also very good. The expansion band is a feature that appeals to all who have had these Dresses.

As an American, it is your contribution to the fight to do your share in conserving the food of the world. Waste nothing.

TALK OF THE TOWN

John Bishop of East Barre passed through the city to-day en route to Springfield and Quincy, Mass., where he will spend a two weeks' vacation.

The regular meeting of the C. T. U., which would have taken place on Friday afternoon of this week, will be omitted on account of another meeting which the members plan to attend, set for the same afternoon.

James F. Cameron of Brockton, Mass., was locked up on an intoxication charge last night. When arraigned before Magistrate H. W. Scott in municipal court this morning the man acknowledged a second offense and elected a jail sentence in lieu of paying a fine of $15 and costs.

James Milne of 69 Brooklyn street, whose nine Rhode Island Red pullets were credited in Tuesday's Times with laying 382 eggs in January, has received from Carroll J. Lamb of East Calais a request for quotations on birds that can produce an average of 42 eggs per capita in 31 days. Mr. Lamb assumed that Mr. Milne had developed a new species of Rhode Island Reds capable of producing two eggs on certain days. Mr. Milne has written the East Calais correspondent to the effect that the pullets credited with the 382 eggs are 19 in number instead of nine. On that basis, however, the Brooklyn street man believes that he has a running start on some of the local poultry fanciers whose pullets began to produce in January.

LONG A RESIDENT OF RUTLAND.

Mrs. Frances Emily Dunn Died at Age of 80.

Rutland, Feb. 14.—The death of Mrs. Frances Emily Dunn, widow of James Crocker Dunn, occurred yesterday at her home on Cottage street, following a week's illness with asthma. Mrs. Dunn came to Rutland to make her home as a bride, having been married December 16, 1862, and since that time she had been a resident of this city.

Four sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Dunn: George Henry, James Colburn, Frank Charles, and William Hugh, the last three of whom survive their mother. Mrs. Dunn was born in Manchester in 1837 and passed her 80th birthday on the 25th of last June. She was the daughter of a prominent farmer's family and Mr. Dunn met her in 1854 on his first trip through the western part of the state.

Mr. Dunn was born Jan. 13, 1830, at Ryegate, and at 23 years of age started out to make his own way in the world. In 1858 he came to Rutland and with John W. Cramton formed the beginning of the present large hardware establishment which goes under the firm name of Dunn Brothers. In 1862 a partnership was formed with H. A. Sawyer but later Mr. Dunn gained control of the hardware business and Mr. Sawyer purchased the stationary department. Mr. Dunn was also connected with the True Blue Marble company and was a director in several banks and corporate companies. He died Sept. 6, 1889.

Mrs. Dunn was a member of the Congregational church and of the Fortnightly society, and in her younger days was most active in the work of the ladies' aid society and the home missionary society. The funeral will be held at Mrs. Dunn's late home Friday afternoon.
